

AMBASSADOR GORDON S. BROWN

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background
Born in Rome, Italy; son of U.S. newsman
Raised in Italy and California
Stanford University
U.S. Army
Entered Foreign Service in 1960
State Department - INR - Soviet propaganda	1960-1961
Arms Central Agency	1961
State Department - FSI - Arabic language trainee	1961-1962
Beirut, Lebanon - FSI -Arabic language training
Course of instruction
Field trips
Nasser
Baghdad, Iraq - Administrative/Political officer	1963-1966
Iraq Petroleum Co. nationalization
Hickenlooper Amendment
U.S.-Iraq relations
Iraqi political tactics
Soviet influence
Leader Exchange program
Tribalism/Familialism
Kurds
Iraq's relations with neighbors
Cairo, Egypt - Economic office	1966-1969
Contacts with Egyptians
Nasser
AID programs
Environment
Economy
Egypt and Yemen
Yemen visit
Arab-Israeli 1962 war
Nasser resignation
Evacuation
Dhahran, Saudi Arabia - ( Interim TDY)	1967

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Soviet presence</li> <li>Nasser after defeat</li> <li>Reporting</li> <li>AMOCO interests</li> <li>Sumed pipeline</li> <li>Egypt-Israel relations</li> <li>Amer trial</li> </ul>
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>State Department - Egypt desk</li> <li>    Kissinger approach to Middle East</li> <li>    Russia and the Middle East</li> <li>    Israel lobby</li> <li>    Joseph Sisco</li> </ul>	1969-1971
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>State Department - Economic Bureau - Office of Fuel and Energy</li> <li>    Occidental Oil and Libya</li> <li>    Oil companies vs. oil countries</li> <li>    Dealing with oil companies</li> <li>    OPEC</li> <li>    1973 embargo</li> </ul>	1971-1973
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Paris, France - Economic officer</li> <li>    Arab-Israel war 1973</li> <li>    Selective oil embargo</li> <li>    French sensitivities</li> <li>    Contacts with government and oil companies</li> <li>    Libyan oil</li> <li>    Western Government's Cooperation</li> <li>    Embassy-Washington relations</li> </ul>	1973
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Hiatus owing to malfunctions</li> </ul>	1973-1986
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>State Department - NEA - Arab Peninsula Affairs</li> </ul>	1986-1989
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Tunis, Tunisia - DCM</li> <li>    U.S.-Tunisian relations</li> <li>    President Ben Ali</li> <li>    PLO dialogue</li> <li>    Ambassador Pelletreau</li> <li>    Egypt, Tunisia and the Arab League</li> <li>    Tunisia and it's neighbors</li> <li>    U.S.-Tunisian relations</li> <li>    French presence</li> <li>    Bourguiba</li> <li>    U.S. oil interests</li> </ul>	1986-1989

Tampa, Florida - Political Advisor to Central Command

General Schwarzkopf

Duties

Central Command objectives

Mid East presence

Kuwait role

"Educating" the staff

Relations with NEA

Quadrennial force review

Mid-East war-game scenario

Embassy-CENTCOM relations

Iraq-Kuwait issue

Saddam Hussein's miscalculation

UAE and Iraq

Tankers for UAE

Planning against Iraq

Saudi Arabia invites U.S. troops

Secretary of Defense Cheney to Saudi Arabia

Aircraft movement complications

French obstructionists

International cooperation, a non-cooperation

Iraq capabilities

Emotion in Saudi Arabia

Ambassador Chas Freeman

Schwarzkopf-Freeman relations

Briefing to "hand-holding"

Visitors to the war

His military views of war

"Red-lining" Baghdad targets

Arab views of war

Israel equation

Psychological warfare neglect

Lack of termination planning

Cease-fire agreement (Safwan)

War aftermath

U.N. peace resolution

Community relations

Scud missiles

Ambassador to Nouakchott, Mauritania

1991-1994

Support of Iraq

Human Rights

Relations with neighbors

Ethnic groups and politics

U.S. relations

Libyan influence

Arab-Israel issue
Government
Environment
Embassy staff and morale
Climate
French role

State Department - inspection of information
Duties
Communication issues

1994-1996