

TABLE OF CONTENTS

RUTH WALTER CROOK

1939: Entrance Into U.S. Government Information Work—The Original U.S. Information Service

1942 OWI Created, Absorbing U. S. Information Service And Four Other Related Organizations. OSS Created And Becomes Overseas Office.

Political Factors Cause Abolition Of State-Side U.S. Information Service: Crook Goes To Overseas Support Office Known As Outpost Service Bureau

Work Expands Enormously For Support Office When MacArthur Sets Up HQ In Australia And Later Moves HQ Up Pacific Island Chain Toward Japan

The Many And Variegated Duties Required In Backstopping MacArthur Operations

OWI Activities: Philippines, China, The Rise And Demise Of The OWI Supply Ship "Phoenix"

1945: War Ends. OWI Phased Out. Crook Becomes Foreign Press Liaison In Newly Established Office In New York City. Exciting Times.

Creation Of UN

Soviet Attempt To Take Over Part Of Iran

Visit Of Shah Of Iran To U.S.

Visit Of President Of Chile

Helping Foreign Press To Cover U.S. Scene Outside New York

Getting Foreign Press On Campaign Trains During Pre-Election Day Period In 1952, And Later, Viewing Televised Inauguration

Crook Joins VOA, August, 1953 At Time Of USIA Creation

1954: VOA Moves From New York To Washington. Many Disruptions Involved

Crook Moves To VOA Special Events (1955) Then Shifts To Become Deputy Head Of Field Relations Staff

1959: Crook Becomes An Assistant To New VOA Director Henry Loomis

Loomis Leaves VOA. John Chancellor Becomes Director. Crook Goes To VOA PR Office

Out Of Sequence Recollections Of VOA During Cuban Missile Crisis

1968: Crook Shifts To USIA Public Information Office, But Returns Year Later To VOA

Recollections Of Memorable Characters In VOA