

ROBERT C. FOULON

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background

Early career in Foreign Service
Opening post in Yaounde, Cameroon

Lusaka, Zambia

1963-1965

Opening post and establishing relations with African officials
British role in Zambia
Zambian aversion to Peace Corps
Kenneth Kaunda, President of Zambia
Relations with Zambian leaders
Railroad line: Dar es Salaam – Lusaka
Zambian relations with China
American staff in Lusaka
Foreign government representatives in Zambia
Living conditions
American and British copper companies
American visitors to Zambia: Wayne Fredericks
Refugees from South Africa

Yaounde, Cameroon

1957-1959

Opening post on July 4, 1957
U.S. relations with France before independence
Relations with African leaders in Cameroon
French Cameroon vs. British Cameroon
Remnants from Germany
Yaounde and Douala
Communications with Washington and nearby posts
Logistics and malaria
President Amadou Ahidjo