

HANNAH GREELY KAISER

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background

- Early roots
- Father's experience as medical doctor in Newfoundland
- Mother, composer of Radcliffe hymn
- Graduate of University of Wisconsin
- Met Philip Kaiser, Rhodes scholar
- Graduate work at Radcliffe 1937-1938
- Marriage in Oxford, England

Early post-marital activities

- Work for Spanish relief
- Move to Washington D.C., husband in Federal Reserve Board
- Job as a social worker
- War Savings staff
- Personnel Office, Office of Price Administration
- Birth of first son, Robert, now Assistant Managing Editor of National News for Washington Post
- Philip Kaiser, Assistant Secretary of Labor under President Truman

Dakar, Senegal

1961-1964

- French influence in Senegal
- Teacher of English in Dakar
- Senegalese People
- Importance of entertaining the local employees
- French Lycée
- Humorous experience of communicating in French with Senegalese cook
- President Senghor
- Tribes of Senegal
- Senegalese midwife
- Prime Minister Mamadua Dia and attempted coup
- Predecessors, the Villards
- Son David's bout with malaria and nephritis
- Philip Kaiser's recovery from TB and dysentery
- Tribes of Senegal
- Sunsets and walks in Senegal
- Peace Corps Volunteers

London, England

1964-1969

- Move to London
- Loan of Art works for DCM Residence
- Fund-raising activities with Embassy wives

Kin of Horace Greeley
Ambassador David Bruce
Philip Kaiser's early British Associations with Roy Jenkins, Dennis Healey and Ted
Heath at Balliol College, Oxford
Ambassador Walter Annenberg
Eight years as Chairman and Managing Director of Encyclopedia Britannica in London

Budapest, Hungary 1977-1979
Appointment to Hungary in 1977 by President Johnson
Return of Hungarian Crown
Attendance of Secretary and Mrs. Cyrus Vance and Senator Edmund Muskie at the ceremony 1978
Help in establishing Hungary's Most Favored Nation status in trade Entertaining Hungarians at the American residence

Vienna, Austria 1979-1980
Appointment as Ambassador to Vienna, Austria, 1980
Women working in the Embassy
Leonard Bernstein and Arthur Swartz concerts in Vienna

Radcliffe
Fiftieth Reunion of Harvard Business School for Women at Radcliffe