

AMBASSADOR EDWIN WEBB MARTIN

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background
Author: The Anglo-American Response to Communist Victory in China (1966)
Yale University: Chinese language study	1945-1946
Peking, China: Chinese language study	1946-1948
Hangzhou (Hankow), China; Deputy Principal Officer	1948-1949
Reporting
Guangxi (Li-Pai) clique
Chiang Kai-shek
Field trips
General Hu Tsung-man
Consular duties
Speculation re communist take-over
Political climate
Communist take-over
Escape
General Marshall Mission
Wife
Third Force Group
US policy
Communists vs Nationalists
Competing political groups
Taipei, Taiwan: Economic Officer	1949-1950
Robert Strong
Office personnel
Kuomintang
Nationalist troops
Chiang Kai-shek requests aid
Communists fail to attack Taiwan
Ambassador Philip Jessup
Land Reform Program
Japanese legacy
Chiang Ching-kuo
Department of State: Office of Chinese Affairs	1951-1955
National Security Council (NSC) papers
Truman/Eisenhower Taiwan policies
China invasion question
Walter McConaughy
US/Chinese talks

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Korea Korea Armistice Agreement Zhou En-lai Panmunjom Geneva Conference Secretary of State Dulles Exchange of Prisoners Geneva talks, 1954
National War College	1955-1956
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> London, England: Political Officer, Far East Chinese (Geneva) talks Alex Johnson Indonesia Non-Aligned Conference Taiwan Straits Crisis Republic of China/ US Mutual Defense Agreement Secretary Dulles Offshore islands Eisenhower foreign policy Appointed US Representative to talks Warsaw talks No attacks on mainland China warning China's Great Leap Forward Chinese threat 	1956-1958
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Hong Kong: Principal Officer, Consul General, Minister Counselor Information sources China watching British assistance Security Environment International Rescue Committee American commercial interests Beijing connections British Hong Kong lease expiration (1997) Cultural Revolution end China-US low level contacts China's Soviet problem China's isolation Easing US/China relations Cambodia Consular operations 	1967-1970
Diplomat in Residence; Claremont Graduate Center, Claremont Colleges	1970-1971

China developments

Vietnam

Cambodia

Sihanouk

Henry Kissinger

United States Ambassador to Burma

1971-1973

Ne Win

Government

Environment

Military junta

Burma/China relationship

White Flag Communists

Nonalignment

Drugs

Comments on Assignments during the President Kennedy years

1961-

Director, Office of Chinese Affairs

People's Republic of Mongolia

Chester Bowles

Dean Rusk

Peoples' Republic of China

US/China relationship

Vice President Lyndon Johnson's Far East Trip