

AMBASSADOR GEORGE CRANWELL MONTGOMERY

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background

Born in Knoxville, Tennessee
University of Virginia
Navy, Vietnam
Vanderbilt Law School

Senator Howard Baker's office

1975-1985

Legislative Assistant, Senate Foreign Relations Committee
Senior Foreign Policy Advisor to the Republican Leader
Senator Baker's "even-handed" approach to the Middle East
Sef Telman
Arms sales to Saudi Arabia
State's working relationship with Congress
September '82 Peace Proposal
Panama Canal Treaty
Iran hostage crisis

U.S. Ambassador to Oman

1985-1989

Interest in Middle East and appointment
American interests in Oman, goals
Iran-Iraq War, normalization of Oman-Iran relationship
Sultans Saheed and Khabus
Sultan Khabus's independent approach to foreign policy
Support for Camp David agreement, Egypt
U.S.-Oman access agreement
Working relationship with Omani government
Oman-Yemen boundary dispute
Iranian military attacks on Gulf shipping
"Operation Earnest Will," Omani reservations and support
U.S. Sailors in Oman, provisions of facilities, female sailors
Vincennes
Repatriation of Iranian prisoners

Final Comments

Success of U.S.-Oman relationship
Kuwaiti opposition to security agreement
Uniqueness of Omanis
Sultan Qabus and seeds of parliamentary democracy?
Oman/ Zanzibar split, late 19th century
Contributions made in Oman
Establishment of English-speaking school

Broadening of U.S.-Oman relationship