

AMBASSADOR DAVID G. NEWTON

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background

Born and raised in Massachusetts
Harvard University; University of Michigan
US Army
Entered the Foreign Service in 1961
Marriage

State Department: FSI: German language study	1961
Zurich, Switzerland; Rotation Officer Environment Consular work	1962-1964
Beirut, Lebanon; Arabic language training Course of study Environment	1964-1966
Sana'a, Yemen Arab Republic; Economic Officer Geography Civil War AID Mission Egyptian military control 1967 Arab-Israel war Evacuation Environment Wartime operations Staff Ta'izz Tribal customs and loyalties Family Egyptian sponsored groups British area withdrawal South Arabian Federation Chiefs of Mission Foreign economic assistance	1966-1967
State Department; Economic Officer, Arabian Peninsular Affairs Vietnam War Watch Arab Oil Embargo "Twin Pillar Policy" British abandon Persian Gulf Security	1967-1969

King Faisal Iraq Nasser Congressional interest in Mid East
University of Michigan; Mid East Area and Language Study	1969-1970
Jeddah, Saudi Arabia; Political Officer Operations Dhahran Consulate General operations ARAMCO Family Environment Relations Israel	1970-1973
Sana'a, North Yemen: Deputy Chief of Mission Ibrahim al Hamdi Political rivalry Yemeni army Yemenis in the US National Liberation Front (NFL) Front for the Liberation of South Yemen (FLOSY) Relations with government Soviet influence Economy Egyptians	1973-1975
State Department; Director, Near East & South Asia, INR Israeli elections Staff Menachem Begin Lebanon civil war	1975-1977
National War College	1977-1978
Damascus, Syria: Deputy Chief of Mission Assad Baathists Relations Camp David Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) US AID Program Iranians Terrorist groups Security	1978-1981

Environment
Americans on hijacked Pakistan aircraft
Family
Iran-Iraq war
Economy
Oil
Muslim Brotherhood
Aleppo
Dealing with officials
Israel
Syrian/Palestinian relations
Lebanon

Riyadh, Saudi Arabia: Political Counselor

1981-1984

Lebanon Civil War
Arab-Israel Peace Process
Saudis and Lebanon war
Lebanon political reform
Saudi relations with Iran
Saudi relations with Iraq
Shias
Fundamentalists
Israel-Lebanon war
Relations
Gulf States
US military presence
Saudi relations with other Arabs
Foreign workers
Saudi professionals

US Ambassador to Iraq

1984-1988

Delay in official confirmation
Iran-Iraq war
Economy
Security
Environment
US commercial interest
US aid
Nuclear laboratories
Saddam Hussein
Snark Affair
Iran-Contra Affair
Operation Staunch
Halabja (Gassing of Kurds)
Soviet arms supplies
Foreign Office

Iraq military
Kurds
French aid to Iraq
Turkey
Jordan relations
Kuwait
Morale

State Department; Director, Office of Syria, Lebanon, Jordan and Palestine Affairs (NEA/ARN) 1988-1990

Syria's Abdul Khalim Haddam
Visit to Lebanon
Lebanese elections
Lebanon invites Syrian presence
Lebanese political leaders
Lebanon's political environment
Lebanon's economy
Israeli factor in Lebanon
Relations with Jordan's King Hussein
General Aoun
Security in Lebanon
US options in Lebanon
Congressional interest
Israel's Washington Institute

National War College: Deputy International Affairs Advisor 1990-1993

Assessment of Iraqi army
Student body and course content

State Department; Office of the Inspector General 1993-1994

Comments on individual inspections

Ambassador to the Republic of Yemen 1994-1997

Yemen-Saudi relations
Yemen-Iraq relations
Yemen Eritrean relations
Yemen Ethiopian relations
Communications
Environment
Local populace
Political Parties
North/South relations
Aden
National Dialogue Council
USS Cole
Terrorism

Visa fraud

Retirement	1997
Recalled as “When Actually Employed” (WAE) Special Envoy to Iraq	1997
Prague, Poland; Radio Free Europe Arabic language radio and TV stations	1998-2004
Comments on Claims of Iraqi Weapons of Mass Destruction Was the war justified? UN Sanctions	