

EUGENE ROSENFELD

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Beginnings in U.S. Government	1940
Census Bureau
Office of Emergency Management Newsroom	1941
“Zoot suit” article leads to regular writing job
OWI Operation at SHAEF, London	1944
Rosenfeld closes London Office	1945
Assists at first meeting of U.N. in London	1946
Assigned to Assist U.S. mission to U.N. in New York	1946
Leaves U.S. –U.N.	1951
Joins International Press Service
Information Officer, USIS: New Delhi	1956
Inadequate direction
Embassy had no idea how to deal with Press
Seemed intent on keeping any information from press representatives
Newly arriving ambassador Ellsworth Bunker corrects Embassy Press relations
Ambassador Bunker’s serial use of Election story
The disastrous Mr. Good friend – and his “masses”
CIA – uncoordinated with USIS – gets into Press Acts
CIA helps turns a young communist newspaper reporter into a friend of America
A last reminiscence on India – Ed Murrow visits	1960
Back in Washington at IPS Murrow becomes USIA director	1960
The Arthur good friend problem again
Two more stories about India: the Walter Lippman and Dave Brubeck visits
While at IPS – extra field assignments – one back in India for two months during China invasion
During Rosenfeld’s two month assignment to India, John Kenneth Galbraith was Ambassador.
Created many difficulties because of intolerance toward his staff and occasionally with Press

Public Affairs Officer, Dar-es-Salaam Fourth of July incident involving cultural affairs Dar-es-Salaam	1963
Transferred to Ethiopia as PAO	1965
Ambassador, a Kennedy Political Appointee, antagonistic toward State Department officers
U.S. relations with Ethiopia Good at Government level Students were restive and rebellious	1960's
Rosenfeld's developed keen and enduring interest in Ethiopia
Impact of educational exchange program on Ethiopian Youth
The U.S. military advisory group programs in Ethiopia
Bobby Kennedy visit to Ethiopia Less than successful	1966
Back to Washington, Medical treatment	1967
Chief of the Mission Press Center, Saigon Rosenfeld suggests a different way of handling press for anticipated "second tet"	1968
Assistant Director for Public Information, Washington	1968
Bruce Herschensohn gives Public Affairs Office Trouble
Press Attaché: London British and Press did not like Ambassador Annenberg Annenberg uncomfortable with press Reluctant to meet with them	1970
Anti – CIA habits of British media
Anecdotes and observations "Turf struggle" revolving around Yehudi Menuhin Regarding Ella Fitzgerald USIA needs revamping – especially in its recruitment Top Agency Officers should not Hanker for Ambassadorships In recruiting and dealing with Foreign National Employees, it is important to avoid frictions among regional, tribal, caste, etc. groups	