

AMBASSADOR LEONARD J. SACCIO

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background

- Early career in business
- Entrance into government service

Foreign Aid Agency

- Deputy general consul
- Extravagant use of funds in Europe
- Pakistan silo case
- Senate oversight

International cooperation administration

- General consul
- Structure of foreign aid
- Congressional debates
- Douglas Dillon and State Department
- Aswan Dam project
- Foreign aid approval process

Deputy Director of AID

- Origin of appointment
- AID leadership
- Using aid to promote reform

Rio de Janeiro

1960-1963

- Economic minister/AID director
- Debate over aid to Latin America
- The Alliance for Progress
- The Inter-American Development Bank
- Nature of post
- John Cabot as ambassador
- Developing northeast Brazil

San Salvador

1963-1966

- Deputy Chief of Mission
- Driving to El Salvador
- Central American common market plan
- Situation in El Salvador
- Henry Tasca

New Delhi

1969-1972

- AID director

Personnel problems
Situation in India
Problems with Mrs. Gandhi
Debate over AID

Conclusions

Differences between developing Asia and Latin America
Columbian experience
Land reform and development
Preparation for becoming ambassador
Role of UN
Importance of constitutions for Third World