

AMBASSADOR MABEL MURPHY SMYTHE (HAITH)

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background and family

- Childhood in Atlanta
- College-educated parents, close family
- Family roots in West Africa
- Early reader and writer
- Spelman, Mount Holyoke, Northwestern, Wisconsin PhD
- School experiences

Segregation

- Large black community, little contact with whites
- Lynching
- Husband's non-acceptance by officer candidate school
- Sister a WAC officer

Professional life (Academia)

- Lincoln University
- Tennessee State College
- Fort Valley State College
- Exploitation of black schools by white politicians
- Young writer in NY
- Brooklyn College
- High school principal
- New Lincoln School

Japan

- University professor in Hakone
- Husband – professor in Yamaguchi

NAACP – deputy director of research

- School desegregation – Brown v. Topeka

Africa

- Group leader of crossroads of Africa
- Co-author with husband of book on Africa
- Recognition as Africanist

New York

- Husband's career with USUN
- Daughter's schooling

Syria

1965-1967

- Husband US ambassador
  - Coup d'etat
  - Cultural perceptions
  - Similarities of FSOs and Academicians
  - Anti-Americanism of Syrians
  - Syrian's attitude towards blacks
  - Demanding social life
  - Archaeology
  - Arab-Israeli War; Embassy evacuation

Malta

1967-1969

- Husband US Ambassador
  - Impact of Moon Walk on Maltese
  - US Fleet visits

New York

- Editor for Phelps-Stokes Fund
- African travel
- African exchange and scholars program
- Views on Black English

Ambassador to Cameroon

1977-1980

- Nomination
- Illness and death of husband
- Confirmation hearings
- Swearing-in ceremony
- Arrival in Yaounde

Cameroon, Programs

- Cultural interaction
- AID programs
- Self-help projects

Cameroon, Embassy Operations

- Management of residence
- Social life
- Cultural activities
- Evacuation of Americans from Chad
- Embassy functions

Cameroon, Issues

- Clearance of USIS films
- Votes at UN
- African point of view
- Showing of "roots"
- French – English language split

Comments on President Carter
Local reaction to a woman ambassador
American business and investment

Cameroon, Staff
Deputy chief of mission
Family liaison officer
Impact of life overseas on foreign service marriage

Equatorial Guinea

1979-1980

Cameroon, Andy Young visit

Post embassy experiences
Deputy assistant secretary in Bureau of African Affairs
Professor at Northwestern University