

AMBASSADOR ANDREW STEIGMAN

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background
African studies in 1950s
London School of Economics
Entry into Foreign Service 1958
Characterization of new FSOs
Training
INR	1958-1960
National Intelligence Surveys
Junior officer, Leopoldville	1960-1962
Congoese transition period
Belgium attitude
Independence
Mutiny of Force Publique
The Congo Cables
Congoese attitude towards Americans
Operation of new embassy
Relations with press
Response to death of Lumumba
Economic officer, Libya	1962-1964
Oil industry reporting
Contacts with Libyans
Desk Officer, Bureau of African Affairs	1964-1966
Organization of African Unity
Globalists and Regionalists
Staff Assistant, Secretary Rusk	1966-1969
Dean Rusk
Foreign policy focus
Vietnam
Political officer, Paris	1969-1972
Middle east – African responsibilities
French foreign policy
Cooperation with Quai d’Orsay
David Newsom
Political counselor, Nigeria	1972-1975

Post –Biafran War period
Nigerian view of world
John Reinhardt
Ibos in government
Ambassador, Gabon	1975-1977
US interests
President Bongo
Role of France
Sao Tome and Principe	1975-1977
UN votes
Intelligence Community Staff	1978-1980
Intelligence coordination
Turf problems
Relative value of secret materials
Foreign Service Career Development and Assignments	1980-1982
Promotions
Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary to Director General	1982-1984
Harry Barnes
Larry Eagleburger
Pressures on assignments process
Women and DCM assignments
Minorities
Reagan administration and personnel
Joan Clark
New Foreign Service Act
Conclusion
Foreign Service as a Career	