

AMBASSADOR ROBERT A. STEVENSON

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Background
University of North Carolina
Navy service in WWII
Foreign Service exam
San Jose, Costa Rica	1947-1950
Training and travel to post
Consular officer
1948 Figueres revolt
Support for Figueres
Communist insurrection
Alex Cohen
Guayaquil, Ecuador	1950-1952
Situation in Ecuador
Political situation
Relations with embassy
Impressions of Foreign Service
Latin American as “minor league”
Düsseldorf, Germany	1952-1957
Political officer
The Stahlhelm
Democracy in West Germany
The CDU and SPD
Connections with socialists
Washington	1957-1961
Masters at Harvard
East-West trade
Head of Middle America branch of INR
Lack of knowledge about Castro in 1958
Latin America as a “side show” for the CIA
Lack of concern about Castro
Batista and the US
Events in Cuba
Dealings with the Barbudos
Castro visit
US aid offers to Castro
Raul Castro
Castro and Perestroika

State Latin American policy
The Bay of Pigs
Kennedy and the Bay of Pigs
Mistakes after the Bay of Pigs
The Dominican Republic
Other Caribbean problems
National War College	1961-1962
August 1962 NIE on missiles in Cuba
Santiago, Chile	1962-1965
Political counselor
Situation in Chile
1964 Frei victory
American interests in Chile
Soviet support to Allende
American business interests
The Chilean military
Washington	1965-1967
Cuban Affairs Coordinator
US-Cuban relations in 1965
Economic pressure on Cuba
Interests sections
Cuban refugees
CIA intelligence of Cuba
Soviet troop presence in Cuba
Cuban-American influence on policy
Castro's views of changes in the Soviet bloc
Bogotá, Columbia	1967-1971
Origin of assignment
Ambassador Carlson
Situation in Columbia
The violencia
Drug situation
The Alliance for Progress
American business interests
Columbian view of Cuba
Relations with Columbian authorities
Columbian role in Panama Canal Treaty
Nixon administration changes
Ambassador Vaughn
The Foreign Service in Latin America
Rockefeller visit
Preoccupation with Vietnam

Washington

1971-1974

- Country director for Mexico
- Mexican-American relations in 1971
- The drug problem
- Water rights
- Immigration problems
- Relation with Mexican officials
- US-Mexico policy
- Deputy Director of assignments
- Personnel in the Foreign Service
- Assignments Panel
- Importance of assignment process
- Kissinger's Global Outlook program

Ambassador to Malawi

1974-1978

- US interests in Malawi
- President Banda
- AID program
- Situation in Mozambique
- Carter human rights policy
- Staff at embassy
- Conditions in Malawi
- Open-window retirement program

Conclusion

- Greatest satisfactions
- Summary of career
- A career in the Foreign Service
- Changes in the Foreign Service